WORK STARTS ON £750,000 CREM REFURB

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

WORK has started on the long-awaited £750,000 refurbishment of Harlow's ageing Parndon Wood Crematorium.

The project is based on plans announced at the end of last year and will be the first major overhaul of the crematorium in its 51-year history.

Planned improvements include an expanded covered area for mourners to gather and view floral tributes, a new glazed archway at the building's entrance, enhanced landscaping across the site, improved access roads and extra parking.

The centrepiece of the programme – an ultra-modern open chapel overlooking a new water garden – is due to be completed by the beginning of October.

Until then, all funerals will take place in a specially designed temporary chapel set within the main ornamental lawn.

The work is being overseen by crematorium operator Westerleigh, which took over management of the service from Harlow Council on a 25-year lease in July last year.

The deal is expected to pave the way for a further £3m of investment in the facility, with plans already in place to install new cremators and emissions control equipment.

Westerleigh managing director Richard Evans said this week: "Parndon Wood is a beautiful, natural place and we have tried to redesign the building so that people feel more a part of this setting when they attend a funeral.

"The improvements will also see a major overhaul of all of our fixtures and systems to ensure that the very best possible level of service will be provided to bereaved families in the future.

"In the meantime, funerals will be held in a high quality temporary chapel which has all of the features of the original chapel and is nicely positioned within our gardens."

Jon Clempner, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for the environment, added: "The new chapel will make a big difference to Parndon Wood and take the service into the 21st century.

"This and other investment in the facilities will help create a modern facility whilst retaining the tranquil and dignified environment where people say farewell to their loved ones."

MP calls on the Government to act over school lunch loophole

HUNDREDS of Harlow College students are missing out on free school meals because of "unfair" Government policy, according to Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

Speaking in a Parliamentary debate last week, the Tory backbencher called on ministers to rethink current funding arrangements that mean 16-18 year-olds attending further education colleges must pay for lunch while those studying at school sixth forms and university technical colleges can eat for free.

"There is a loophole in the system that has been damaging the life chances of young people at Harlow College and elsewhere for too long," Mr Halfon said.

"Harlow College estimates at least 350 of its FE students are in severe need of free school meals. These are young people who turn up to college hungry every day and whose education is at significant risk as a result."

Although the college receives no direct funding to help disadvantaged students, it has dipped into a new bursary scheme to offer some a food subsidy of around £1.20 a day for three days a week through the campus canteen.

But Mr Halfon said it is not always clear who is in the most need as few of the college's feeder schools share data on which students regularly claimed free meals before moving into further education.

"I urge the Government to look at obliging schools to share data with further education colleges on which pupils need free school meals and to provide more financial support to level the playing field with sixth-form colleges and schools," he said.

Gym can fix it

TOWN centre gym Fit4Less will be holding an official launch party today (Thursday).

Visitors to the premises in Terminus Street, Harlow, will be able to meet staff, tour the facilities and find out more about low-cost membership plans and special offers.

The event starts at 5.30pm and refreshments will be available. For more information, log on to www.f4l.com/harlow.

Crime falls but public urged to remain vigilant

A YEAR-on-year drop in Harlow's overall crime rate is being hailed as proof the town is becoming safer a place to live and work.

According to the latest figures from Essex Police, the total number of reported offences has fallen for the second year running.

The report highlights significant drops in vehicle crime (down by 10.8 per cent), shoplifting (10.4 per cent) and criminal damage (7.9 per cent), while the number of serious sexual attacks has fallen by 5.3 per cent.

Smaller reductions have also been recorded in violent crime (down by 0.2 per cent) and residential burglaries (down 1.4 per cent).

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Harlow District Commander Ben Hodder said the figures were a result of the efforts of the Safer Harlow Partnership – a multi-agency group made up of the police, Harlow Council and local NHS Trusts – and targeted police operations.

"Whilst the figures make good reading, we are not complacent," he said. "My officers are actively reminding people about their security and personal safety, to lock outbuildings when not in use and for people to be aware of their surroundings at all times."

He added: "We will aim to keep up the momentum to ensure Harlow remains a safe place to live and work."

Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson said the statistics proved Harlow was becoming a safer place to live and work.

"In Harlow there is a perception that crime and anti-social behaviour is a big problem and this is simply not the case," he said. "These facts speak for themselves and crime continues to reduce in the town."

"However, residents and business all have a role to play in reducing crime further. Our homes and business premises need to be secure at all times and we all need to be careful with our personal belongings when out and about."

We're so proud of all our family say couple married for 60 years

STRONG family values go a long way to ensuring years of wedded bliss, according to one Harlow couple celebrating their diamond anniversary.

Bert and Ivy Glazebrook, of Ladysnot, say raising and watching their four children, 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren grow up has been their proudest achievement.

The couple, who first met in a pub in Edmonton, courted for a year before tying the knot on June 14, 1952.

They moved to Harlow just two months later when Ivy's job with Standard Telephones and Cables was transferred to the town.

"We have had a good life together," said Ivy (81). "We have enjoyed watching Harlow develop over the years and watching our children, grandchildren and great grandchildren do so well."

"There's no secret to a happy marriage; it is about working together and communicating through the good and hard times."

The couple celebrated their anniversary at a big family gathering and despite not wanting any gifts said they had been "spoilt rotten".

"We have a lovely family and are both so very proud of them all," added Bert (86). "We feel very lucky."

Remembrance service

A SPECIAL remembrance service for families mourning the loss of a baby or child will be held at Church Langley Community Centre on Sunday.

The service, organised by the bereavement team at PAH, starts at 3pm and will include personal readings and the lighting of remembrance candles.

Rowan's rapid weight gain told us he was ill

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE parents of a budding young footballer suspected of suffering from a rare disease are holding a fun day to raise money for the hospital trying to get to the bottom of his symptoms.

Michelle and Lee Dorling, of Milwards, Harlow, have organised the family event at The Link in Parsloe Road to raise money for the Great Ormond Street Hospital charity and Soccer Mayhem, a youth football club where their nine-year-old son Rowan trained.

The couple decided to hold the event as a way of giving something back to the hospital, which is currently running tests on Rowan after he fell ill earlier this year.

"It all began in January when Rowan suddenly started putting on weight after Christmas," Michelle explained. "At first we thought it was all part of adolescence but when he continued to put more on at an alarming rate we knew something more serious was up."

"He is a very active boy who trains with West Ham's academy three or four times a week so it didn't make any sense."

Michelle said that despite their concerns initially being dismissed by GPs, they decided to seek private medical advice and were eventually referred to GOSH where medics tentatively diagnosed a condition called Cushing's Disease.

"Cushing's is an extremely rare condition caused by underlying tumours usually in the adrenal glands," said Michelle. "The side effects include high blood pressure, excessive weight gain due to an unnatural increase in steroid production in the body, high cholesterol, depression and a 'moon' face."

"It has been very difficult for Rowan. He has always been a very happy, easy-going boy but this has really knocked his confidence. Putting on the fundraiser has been a good way to distract us all from the illness whilst he still undergoes tests."

The fundraiser takes place on Saturday, June 30 starting at 1pm. Attractions include a full fairground, stalls, live music, football challenges and a licensed bar.

"The day is really aimed at having something for all the family," added Michelle. "It's been hard work to organise but worth it to support Rowan's old football team and give something back to GOSH. The staff there really have been fantastic and have given a good prognosis at this point."

"I'd love to be able to give them a good amount so really hope as many people as possible come down for a brilliant day supporting an incredible cause."

● Anyone wishing to support the family's fundraising efforts can do so by visiting www.justgiving.com/soccermayhem.

Change of name for boat project

A LOCAL boating project which gives people of all abilities the chance to experience life on the water has changed its trading name.

The Canal Boat Project based at Lock View in Burnt Mill Lane, Harlow, operates four specially adapted canal boats so that local disabled groups can enjoy travelling on waterways and take an active part in boating activities

Now the registered charity, which was started in 1989, has decided to change its name to CanalAbility as a better way of describing its operation, aims and objectives.

"The new name gives a clearer indication of what we do and is more memorable," explained manager Doreen Goodall. "It has been well received by our clients and volunteers and we will continue to offer the same great value and quality experience."

To coincide with the name change, the charity has also launched a new website providing comprehensive information about their services. For more information about the group, visit the site at www.canalability.co.uk.

Chocolate Run dips into digital

A HARLOW-based charity helping the homeless is about to launch its first website.

Harlow Chocolate Run, which provides food, clothes and support to homeless people in the town and surrounding areas, will use the new site designed by ex-volunteer Steve Jack as a platform to promote the work they do.

The charity hopes that as well as providing updated information about the charity's events, news and services, it will be a way of recruiting more volunteers.

"We are thrilled with the new site and want to say a big thank-you to Steve for setting it all up," said secretary Jackie Brown. "Hopefully it will make us more accessible as a group and make it easier for people to learn about the work we do."

"We are currently looking to develop our services so would encourage people to check the website for updates."

The new site can be found at www.chocolaterun.org.uk.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, June 15 is ticket holder 112478, who lives in Harlow.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 102374 who also lives in Harlow.

Pals' fundraising finale before Inca adventure

DISCO divas are being encouraged to get their hips moving to help fund vital research and trials benefiting local breast cancer sufferers.

Harlow friends Lisa Tiffin (30) and Lorna Crump (32), pictured left, are hosting their latest fundraising event - a charity disco - in a final bid to top up the amount of money raised for breast cancer clinical trials at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital and St Margaret's Hospital in Epping.

Since signing up for a 10-day charity trek in Peru less than a year ago, the pair have held race nights, table top sales, bag-packing sessions and discos. So far they have raised £8,000 and are hoping to hit the £10,000 mark before finally embarking on the once-in-a-lifetime Inca trail experience in a few weeks time.

"It has been a lot of hard work organising all the different events but definitely worth it," said Lisa. "It is an amazing charity which helps so many local people."

"We both want to say a huge thank-you to everyone who has supported us over the last few months, including a special thanks to MP Robert Halfon who has been brilliant."

"Hopefully as many people as possible will come to the final charity disco which have been very popular in the past. It would be fantastic to start our trek knowing we managed to accomplish our ultimate target."

The disco takes place on Friday, June 29 at Burnt Mill Snooker and Social Club. Tickets cost £5 and can be purchased on the night or in advance by calling Lisa on 07894 562311.

Church welcomes bishop for induction of new vicar

A FORMER midwife has been installed as the new vicar for the ecumenical church serving the community of Church Langley.

Rev Ann Kosla was formally inducted by the Bishop of Barking, the Rt Rev David Hawkins, during a special service held at the community centre in Church Langley Way on Thursday.

The married mother-of-three was ordained in 2004 and has previously worked as a self-supporting vicar in Boreham, Chelmsford.

"It will be great to be living in Church Langley and working together with the community to build on the good work that is taking place here," she said.

A service is held at the community centre every Sunday and the church runs a regular drop-in cafe and youth club on Thursdays. For more information, visit www.churchlangleychurch.org.

Abusive patient hit out at three nurses

A HOSPITAL patient who assaulted three nurses has avoided a jail sentence after a court was told he suffered from diabetes which could make him act violently.

James Cahill (46) lashed out while being treated for a head injury on Saunders Ward at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital last December.

Mika Pine, prosecuting at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Friday, said Cahill had been aggressive towards staff and verbally abusive during his time at the hospital. He refused to stay in bed and when he fell over he was unable to get himself up.

Miss Pine said the first assault took place in the early hours of December 18. "He threw himself on the floor and was helped up by nurses Janet Herring and Tracie Coleman, but he lashed out and kicked nurse Herring in the hip, causing her pain," she told the court.

A little later nurse Coleman was checking on Cahill when he became aggressive towards her, punching and kicking her in the stomach.

Then, at about 2.45am, nurse Noreen Adkin was filling in notes near his room when he came out and tried to pull away her trolley. She pulled it back, at which point he again became aggressive and punched her in the side of the face, knocking her to the floor.

Police were called and Cahill told them the ward nurses did not believe he was unwell and kept saying he was deliberately throwing himself on the floor.

He claimed one nurse kept forcing him into his bed while another tried to push him back with a trolley so he pushed her. Cahill added he would not hit a woman but accepted he may have lashed out unintentionally.

Emma Davenport, representing Cahill, handed magistrates a letter from a professor of clinical biochemistry and medicine who was treating the defendant. In the letter the professor said the defendant's behaviour could have been caused by diabetes.

"His mobility is impaired and he is in a wheelchair," said Miss Davenport. "He can walk a little but he would fall if his blood pressure dropped while walking."

"He needs a lot of care and supervision and social services have put a care package in place."

She said Cahill, who currently lives in a one-bedroom flat in Saffron Walden and is on benefits, is visited four times a day by a district nurse and has help in the morning and evening.

"He seems to experience mental blocks due to his condition which can put others at risk," she said, adding that when his blood sugars were high his behaviour became unpredictable.

Chairman of the bench Walter Hall told Cahill he had committed serious offences on people serving the public, adding: "They have a right to be protected from violence."

But he said the court accepted the expert evidence it had received about his behaviour.

Cahill, who pleaded guilty to three offences of common assault, was given a two-year conditional discharge.

Clean team springs into action to spruce up town

MEET the hit squad on a mission to keep Harlow clean and green.

The four-strong environment response team was set up as part of a deal agreed between Harlow Council and Kier Services Ltd earlier this year and will target litter hotspots across the town.

They will also carry out path clearance and weed spraying.

Areas already visited include Post Office Road, Tithefields, Moorfields, Fir Park, Kingsmoor Road, Red Willow, Hare Street Springs and The Maples.

Jon Clempner, the council's portfolio holder for environment, said: "With big occasions like the Olympic flame coming to Harlow next month and the Olympic Games taking place just down the road, it is important that Harlow looks its best.

"We know most residents look after the environment and use the services available but if there is a problem which needs cleaning up we need to know about it."

Games festival at Harlow Skatepark

THRILLSEEKERS can get an adrenaline fix when the SX Urban Games return to Harlow Skatepark near Burnt Mill School on Saturday.

The Harlow Council-backed event, which has been awarded the Inspire Mark in recognition of its link to the London 2012 Olympics, will feature scooter, BMX and skate 'jams', mountain bike time trials and a BMX stunt show.

There will also be live DJ sets and refreshments.

The event runs from 11am-4pm and admission is free.

Police arrest pair on suspicion of burglary

TWO men have been arrested on suspicion of burglary.

The pair - aged 23 and 24 - were taken into custody after being arrested in the Little Brays area of Harlow in the early hours of Monday.

Police officers were sent to the area to investigate reports of two men carrying a television and acting suspiciously.

Officers from the Harlow Area Investigation Team and the dog unit attended the scene and made the arrests.

Outside toilets, warm milk and lemon curd tart

CARRYING around gas masks during the war years and the ongoing debate about whether school dinners were delightful or disgusting are some of the memories shared from former pupils of Harlow Common CoE school this week.

A few weeks ago we printed a photograph of pupils attending the school in May 1950. It was sent in by Church Leys resident Arlene Jacobs and among those whose responded were John Deller, of Potter Street, and Rosalind Edwards (nee Peden), of Tower Road, Epping.

John, who was a pupil at the school during the years of the Second World War, said seeing the photo had brought back happy memories for him.

"I attended [the school] from 1936-1945 when you went in one end at five years of age and came out the other at 14, ready for the world.

"It was a time when I recall carrying the required gas mask in a small box and also having to go into the brick air raid shelters, although I think that must have been for practice as most air raids were at night.

"We also had a period during the war when, because of the sheer number of evacuees in Potter Street, we only had to go to school for half days which we thought was lovely."

John said he could remember popular schoolmaster Mr Crouch, although he has particularly fond memories of Miss Cunningham who also appears in the photo.

"Miss Cunningham would occasionally give me a half crown [2/6d in 'old' money or 12/p today] to take home towards a prisoner of war parcel for my brother in Germany" he said. "I think she had a nephew in the same predicament."

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

John added: "This is the first photograph I have seen of the school. If anyone has any from the war years I would love to see them."

Rosalind got in touch after spotting herself in the picture. "I just had to write and share my experience of going to Harlow Common School," she said.

"I was 10 years old in the photo and I'm at the end of row three on the right counting from the bottom. My sister Doreen, who was eight, was also in the photo.

"We had to cycle in all weathers from Rye Hill although I remember there was a teacher - Mrs Mockley - who walked both ways each day from Jacks Hatch, Broadley Common. What dedication!

"The classrooms were divided by partitions, toilets were outside and there was a separate washroom with cold water only. The playground was also divided, boys on one side and girls on the other.

"The infants' classroom had a big open fire which was lit during the winter and our milk ration was warmed in front of it, though I wasn't keen on milk and thought warm milk was even worse,

"Our school dinners were shipped in from Epping in big heated containers and though lots of the children didn't like them I have fond memories, especially of the lemon curd tart.

"The headmaster in the photo was Mr Benton, with Mr Henderson on his right. The lady in the centre was Miss Cunningham, who taught into her late eighties. She became a headteacher at another Harlow school and was featured many times in the Star, passing away in 1983 at the age of 93.

Harlow Council have given the go-ahead to a multi-million pound redevelopment of the rundown Staple Tye shopping centre. Fifteen independent traders offered to buy the centre and put in the necessary funds to restore it.

A former Royal Navy firefighter saved the day when a chip pan burst into flames at his girlfriend's home at The Readings. He was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital where he was treated for burns on his chest and arms after carrying the blazing pan into the garden.

A victorious Jerry Hayes went on a walkabout to thank the voters who re-elected him as Harlow's MP in the general election, despite expectations of a close fight.

The Conservative candidate surprised the would-be pundits by almost doubling his majority over Labour's Stan Newens.

Police have appealed to pranksters to leave traffic cones alone. The plea comes after police headquarters at Chelmsford refused to issue any more of the cones to Harlow station because of the large amount that have been disappearing.

Tickled pink!

Midnight Walk raises more than £70,000 for St Clare Hospice

THIS year they were asked to 'do it in the dark'... and once again the people of Harlow responded in style.

On Saturday evening almost 1,200 headed for the Water Gardens car park for the start of the Star-backed Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice.

All were there to have a few laughs and do their bit to raise money for a worthy cause – and they succeeded. By the end of the evening more than £70,000 had been pledged to the hospice.

The dress code was pink and everywhere there were people – women, men and children as well as one or two dogs – wearing clothing of the appropriate colour.

Some had gone to extraordinary lengths in their choice of fancy dress, while many added the finishing touch of a pair of flashing bunny ears or angel wings to their get-ups. The good-natured crowd were kept entertained by the Heart radio roadshow while a zumba warm-up got them ready for the 10km walk around Harlow.

Shortly before setting off the walkers were given a few words of encouragement by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who also congratulated the organisers.

First to finish the walk was nine-year-old Kamil Urbanski, of Latton Green, Harlow, in a time of 1h:22m. He was followed a few seconds later by Karen Wilson, of East Park, Old Harlow, and his mum Karolina.

Everyone who completed the course, including the dogs, received a medal. Tracy Stratford, events organiser for St Clare, said afterwards: "We were absolutely delighted with how the walk went. As always, it was a fantastic sight seeing over 1,000 people dressed in pink filling the Water Gardens to raise money for the hospice.

"The rain stayed away and we were delighted with our fastest walk which saw everyone complete the race in under three hours."

She added: "Everyone at St Clare Hospice is so grateful for the support that the local community gave the walk."

"Whether you walked, sponsored someone or volunteered on the night, a big thank-you to everyone!"

Remember to send sponsorship money

THAT'S all folks - the Midnight Walk is over and you can put away you flashing bunny ears for another year.

Saturday's fundraiser was a very special night for all those who took part. But it is important to remember the reason why the Midnight Walk takes place.

St Clare Hospice currently only receives 24 per cent of its £2.7m annual running costs from the NHS so every single penny you have raised is needed for it to continue providing services to people with life-limiting illnesses - and their families - in Harlow and across West Essex.

If you were sponsored by family or friends to take part in the walk, you need to collect the money and send it in as soon as possible.

There are two ways of paying in your sponsorship money:

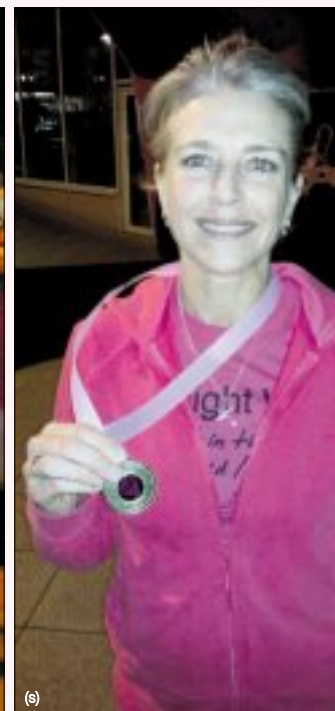

● Take it to the hospice (situated in Hastingwood Road just off the A414 on the M11 Harlow roundabout)

● Send a cheque made payable to St Clare Hospice to: Midnight Walk Team, St Clare Hospice, Hastingwood Road, Hastingwood, Essex CM17 9JX.

Please remember to attach your completed sponsorship forms so that Gift Aid can be claimed on your donations.

Where will all these new homes be built?

SIR, Councillor Michael Danvers deploras people's aspirations to own their own home (Letters, June 14). He states the Right To Buy has left thousands of people on the council house waiting list with no hope of housing.

He is partly right but his claim that it was Labour who were responsible for a major housing programme after the war is wrong. The greatest rise in housebuilding was under successive Conservative governments from 1951-1965 and again under Ted Heath, when it peaked around 350,000 a year.

Under Tony Blair it fell from 156,000 in 1997 to just 88,000 in 2009, the lowest on record.

Cllr Danvers also ignores the fact that most people, like me, who bought their homes still live in them. He forgets that under Labour's immigration policy, now exposed as a political ploy to boost their multicultural dream and Labour votes, left this country with a net gain of three million people.

Conservatives inherited this chaos at a time when Labour's recession and massive debt binge left this country and our council bankrupt. Then we were hit by the banking crisis. And here we are, no money left, no homes left and Cllr Danvers calling for massive council house building.

Where in Harlow does his Labour council intend to build these huge new estates? Where will the money come from? Bearing in mind that around 9,000 existing households in Harlow pay little or no council tax, who will pay for all the services these thousands of new council tenants will need?

This is simply another attempt to manipulate people's expectations and pretend they care about honest working class people. The bottom line is Labour had the chance to build these homes between 1997 and 2010 but they didn't, so why should we believe them now?

J. Davey
Joyners Field, Harlow

The conundrum faced by all planning authorities

SIR, It was a refreshing change to read two letters in last week's Star actually calling for more homes to be built, albeit council houses. Everyone accepts there is a housing issue and that it is not just for the less well off. With over 230,000 new households being created every year in this country across the board and new homes construction falling well below that figure most years in the past decade, it can't be denied.

And yet despite that general acceptance, propose a development and instantly a vociferous and noisy local minority spring up objecting to it, usually with quite sensible and structured arguments why it shouldn't be on that site. This would be the same whether council houses, affordable houses, private or a combination of tenures.

This does present a conundrum and one faced by all planning authorities – development has to go somewhere. Do we go with the objectors or do we ignore the minority for the good of the majority of the community who accept the issue and that something has to be done?

New Sunday service is good for environment

SIR, I would like to bring to your readers' attention some fabulous news for the people of Harlow and Chelmsford who have not had a Sunday bus service linking these two vibrant towns for decades.

In response to my request to review the bus timetable on behalf of the community, Essex County Council's transport department has acknowledged the interest and need to extend Arriva's service to a Sunday. This is now in operation.

I would like to publicly thank the county

PHOTOGRAPHS capture a moment in time – and none more so than this picture of cherry blossom taken by reader Mary Johnson, of Kingland, Harlow.

"I took a photo of this lovely cherry tree against a blue sky," she said. "It stands near Burnt Mill School and I took it in April."

Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it.

Speaking up to save our traditional values

SIR, Recently there has been much in the news about the Government wanting to change the law about marriage with regard to same sex couples. We are writing to express our fears that marriage as an institution should be changed.

It is the bedrock institution for culture to sustain itself through having and nurturing children. We feel there are aspects of men and women that are important to the institution of marriage which are not just physical.

Social science research agrees that children do best when raised in homes with married opposite sex parents, although of course there are many single parents that do a heroic job of raising their children in difficult circumstances. Some may say that marriage is not about children, but nevertheless heterosexual union is still the kind of union best for children and should, therefore, be protected.

The legal and theological definition of marriage is "voluntary union for life of one man and one woman to the exclusion of all others". Civil partnerships already provide all the legal benefits of marriage and same sex couples may choose to have civil partnerships, but we don't feel they have the right to redefine marriage for the rest of us.

In this politically correct society there is much pressure to keep quiet when some minorities voice their objections to traditional values, but perhaps this is not the time to keep silent.

I'm appalled by pensioner's bus accident ... but not surprised

SIR, I was appalled to see the picture of Olive Towns after her bus ride ordeal (Star, June 7). Appalled but not surprised as some of the drivers are accidents waiting to happen.

Recently I caught a bus from Broadley Road to go into town. The driver went over two kerbs with his offside back wheel and his driving was quite aggressive.

In the case of Mrs Towns, the bus driver should have given her his driver number but more than that he should have called an ambulance. He may very well have asked her if she wanted one but she was obviously confused and probably felt a little intimidated. I drove double-deckers in central London and the suburbs for seven years. We were regularly inspected by observers on the buses, the DVLA, Transport for London and inspectors from the garage where we were based. All checked our driving and gave us a rating of one-five, one being the best and five being a new occupation!

Quite frankly six out of 10 bus drivers in Harlow would not be bus drivers in London for very long.

R.J. Kendle
Little Cattins, Harlow

SIR, I would like to send my best wishes to Olive Towns and hope she is recovering well.

I can well believe the bus she was on was speeding. We live in Church Leys where buses speed along outside our house with no thought for people or other traffic.

There are cars parked on both sides of this road. The bus drivers would have no chance of stopping if a child or animal were to run out unexpectedly.

FLASHBACK: Star, June 7

The spokesman for the bus company should take a trip to our street and monitor his buses.

Name and address supplied

SIR, Reading the comment from the spokesman for SM Coaches, I would like to set things straight. After all, has anyone ever seen cars parked on both sides of the road in Tillwicks Road?

I got on the bus and sat on one of the fold-down seats facing the back of the driver. Immediately the bus shot off round the corner into Southern Way and we were travelling at such speed that as I went to grab the handrail I could see I wasn't going to make it.

If I had been someone less able-bodied than me it could have been a lot worse. Indeed, a few weeks before I had seen an elderly man thrown off that same seat.

I think the bus company should do away with these seats and make sure their drivers take more care, especially when turning into sharp corners and using roundabouts.

Awards celebrate the best of town's youth

THE achievements of many of Harlow's young people were publicly recognised at an awards ceremony to highlight their hard work and determination.

More than 70 youngsters were honoured at the annual Jack Petchey Achievement Awards held at Harlow Playhouse. All the winners were nominated by their peers and leaders.

Each winner received a medallion, a framed certificate and a cheque for £200 from the charity to be spent on new equipment and resources for their school or youth group.

Seven leader awards were also presented to adults in recognition of their outstanding ability to motivate and inspire young people.

The evening was hosted by Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who described the event as a huge success.

"Politicians get bad press and so do young people, but tonight showed amazing achievement across the board from Harlow's youth which is not recognised often enough," he said. "Everyone tonight is a winner in my eyes."

The event also featured live performances from the cast of Passmores Academy's forthcoming production of Grease, the Burnt Mill Gospel Choir, singer Anastasija Smirnova from Stewards Academy and vocalist Harrison Taylor from St Mark's West Essex School.

The evening's entertainment was then capped off with a rousing finale by the sixth form performing arts group from Harlow Fields School & College.

Harlow Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcoop said the awards proved that Harlow had a bright future.

"There is so much to be proud of about our young people in Harlow who set a marvellous example. These awards have allowed us to give the winners what they truly deserve; it's all about endeavour in the community and not thinking of themselves. We are all very proud."

The Jack Petchey Foundation was set up in 1999 by businessman Jack Petchey to recognise the positive contributions young people make to society and to support them in achieving their potential. Since 2001 it has given £780,000 to schools and youth organisations in Harlow.

Mr Petchey (86) said: "I am very proud of our awards scheme because it sums up exactly what the foundation seeks to do - raise aspirations, reward achievement and make a difference to young people whatever their circumstances."

Fire crews in strike vote

FIREFIGHTERS in Essex have voted in favour of strike action in a dispute over cuts to frontline services.

Crews voted two-to-one in favour of a walkout in a ballot held by the Fire Brigades Union – although the FBU has held off setting a date for industrial action in the hope a compromise deal can be thrashed out.

The row centres around the Essex fire authority's plans to reduce its spending, which the union claims will result in the loss of one in five crews and have a serious impact on service delivery.

Mick Rogers, Essex FBU's brigade secretary, said the overwhelming support for strike action highlighted genuine concerns over the planned cutbacks.

"Essex fire crews have shown the strength of opposition to frontline cuts and changes being forced through without their agreement," he said. "The result explodes the myth peddled to councillors that fire crews have no genuine concerns.

"This damaging myth has led councillors to support disastrous plans to impose changes and press ahead with cuts.

"There is a window of opportunity to negotiate and reach an agreement acceptable to both sides in this dispute if councillors want that to happen..

He added: "No-one in the fire service ever wants to take strike action and no-one will be happy if we are forced to do so. It is crucial the fire authority now wakes up and joins with us in genuine moves to resolve this dispute."

Of the 749 firefighters balloted across the county, 532 backed industrial action and 217 voted against a walkout.

Fire authority chairman Anthony Hedley said he was bitterly disappointed at the result of the ballot and warned the FBU it would face a public backlash if industrial action was taken.

"This is 2012, not the 1970s," he said. "In all walks of life people are facing change and unprecedented financial uncertainty.

"Firefighters have been told their jobs are secure and so is their shift system. Unlike other fire and rescue services across the UK, the authority has pledged to keep all fire stations open and retain all of our fire engines.

"But we do not have a bottomless pit of cash and we have to modernise outdated working practices and ensure that we are using our resources paid for by council tax payers in Essex in the most efficient and effective way."

Oovie's wave sculpture is inspired by regeneration

A TALENTED young artist is making waves at a Harlow housing development after one of her sculptures was given pride of place at the heart of the new estate.

Former Harlow College student Oovie Usher came out top of the class in a competition run by housebuilder Barratt Homes, impressing judges with a stunning three-tiered wave design inspired by the area's ongoing regeneration.

As well as seeing her work installed as part of the latest phase of the Gateway development in Fifth Avenue, the 20-year-old fine art student also picked up a cheque for £500 at the official unveiling on Thursday.

"I couldn't believe it when I won," she said. "I really didn't expect it.

"I've been going to the factory where the sculpture was being made every now and then to see how it was looking, but to see it at the development is amazing and makes me really proud.

"It was a great project and I'm really thankful for the opportunity to make a permanent contribution to Harlow."

Graham Bridgman, land director of Barratt North London, added: "We were presented with several great ideas but Oovie's concept really stood out.

"She came up with an idea inspired by the regeneration of Harlow, with the sculpture of a wave representing water as the element vital for life and growth and reflecting the fact new homes such as those at Fifth Avenue act as the 'water' feeding the growth and development of the community in Harlow."

Hospital staff given award for hip-op bone donations

STAFF at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital have been given a pat on the back for their efforts to secure bone donations from patients undergoing hip replacement surgery.

The orthopaedic pre-assessment team and theatre staff received an award from NHS Blood and Transplant after managing to collect 111 femoral heads [hip bones] over the past 12 months through the hospital's live bone donation programme.

The initiative works by giving patients undergoing replacement surgery the option of donating the bone being removed for use as a packing agent in future hip operations.

The procedure helps the recipient's bones to bind more successfully with the artificial replacement.

HEALTH CHECK in partnership with the PAH NHS TrustA simple blood test could save lives of 10,000 men every year

ACCORDING to a survey of men aged 45 and over, 70 per cent know nothing about their prostate or the symptoms of prostate cancer.

The prostate, found only in men, is located below the bladder. It produces some of the fluid in semen and protects sperm during intercourse.

The prostate often enlarges as men get older. For two-thirds of men aged 50 or over this doesn't cause any problems but in some cases it can cause urinary complications or, if a cell in the prostate starts to multiply out of control, cancer can develop.

Prostate cancer is the most common cancer in men in the UK. More than 40,000 are diagnosed with prostate cancer every year and 250,000 are currently living with the disease. Around 10,000 die from it every year, making it the second most common cause of cancer deaths in men after lung cancer.

However, during the past 10 years death rates have fallen by 11 per cent. This is due to a range of factors, including improvements in the treatments available and possibly because men are having the cancer diagnosed earlier.

Unlike many other cancers, prostate cancer usually progresses very slowly and for this reason it is treatable if it is caught fast enough. Thanks to modern testing and treatment methods, survival rates of newly diagnosed prostate cancer patients have improved from 30 per cent in the 1970s to 80 per cent today.

What are the symptoms?

Prostate cancer symptoms can be the same as other prostate problems and it should be noted that most men will experience no symptoms at all. However, a visit to your GP is advisable if you:

- >> need to urinate often, especially at night;
- >> have difficulty starting to urinate;
- >> are straining to urinate or take a long time to finish;
- >> experience pain when urinating or during sex.

Other less common symptoms include pain in the lower back and blood in the urine

For some men the first noticeable symptoms are from prostate cancer which has spread to their bones. If this happens you may notice pain in your back, hips, pelvis or testicles that was not there before. These symptoms could be caused by other problems such as general aches and pains or arthritis, but it is still a good idea to get them checked out by your GP if you are worried.

Getting tested

A simple blood test carried out by your GP can detect the early signs of prostate cancer. All men over 50 are entitled to a PSA test free on the NHS. The test measures the level of PSA (prostate-specific antigen) in your blood. PSA is a protein produced by normal cells in the prostate and also by prostate cancer cells. Some of it will leak into your blood and the amount depends on your age and the health of your prostate.

A raised PSA level in your blood may show that you have a problem with your prostate. However, this may not be due to cancer. Other conditions such as an enlarged prostate, prostatitis or a urinary infection can also cause a raised PSA level.

What happens after the test?

One out of three men with a raised PSA level will have cancer. The higher the level of PSA, the more likely it is to be a sign of cancer.

If your PSA level is raised, your GP will arrange for you to see a specialist for further tests. It may be suggested that you have a digital rectal examination and a biopsy, which involves taking tissue samples from the prostate gland, may not be needed.

If you suspect something isn't right you should discuss your concerns with your GP. Very often the symptoms will be for something less serious but they can still have a significant impact on your quality of life and you do not need to suffer in silence.

And if the appointment does nothing more than alleviate your fears, it's worth it.

Zoo staff shell-shocked by the end of a beautiful friendship!

THE world's longest animal romance looks to have come to an end after an incredible 115 years.

The relationship between Galapagos giant tortoises Bibi and Poldi has finally hit the rocks after the pair refused to continue sharing the same cage.

Keepers at the Klagenfurt Zoo in Austria first noticed something was wrong when female Bibi bit off a chunk of her partner's shell! When she continued to attack him, staff were forced to step in and move Poldi to a new enclosure.

The zoo has now called in animal behaviour experts to try and get Bibi and Poldi back together, but so far they have not succeeded.

"We get the feeling they can't stand the sight of each other anymore," said zoo boss Helga Happ.

"They are both 115 years old. They have been together since they were young and grew up together, but for no reason that anyone can discover they seem to have fallen out. They can't stand each other."

Giant tortoises are native to the Galapagos Islands in the Pacific Ocean and can live for up to 175 years in captivity, so the good news is there is still plenty of time for Bibi and Poldi to sort out their differences and get back together!

Rare UK appearance by king of the strings

By CHRIS MOSS

ONE of Europe's finest classical guitarists will make a rare UK appearance in Old Harlow next month.

Italian virtuoso Antonio De Innocentis will showcase his remarkable flair for fretwork at the St John's Arts and Recreation Centre on Thursday, July 5, performing a varied programme ranging from Scarlatti sonatas to Scott Joplin ragtime.

Born in Naples, 51-year-old De Innocentis has arranged, performed and recorded extensively in Europe and the USA, both as a solo artist and with orchestral backing.

Renowned for the breathtaking diversity of his repertoire – which includes original arrangements of everything from Scottish folk music to Gershwin – he has been hailed as one of classical guitar's great innovators, revered worldwide for his stimulating interpretations of classic works.

Sawbridgeworth-based musician and concert organiser Chris Dell said: "Antonio's command of a broad repertoire has drawn accolades from his international concert tours.

"That range is from the baroque through to the technical and emotional surprises of 20th century music.

"Whether he plays Scarlatti or Scott Joplin, he manages to enter the very essence of a composition interpreting each piece."

Chris added: "As an American composer-guitarist friend of mine has said, Antonio is a player with power, depth and musical perceptiveness that few guitarists today possess."

The ARC performance will include sonatas by Scarlatti, movements from Mussorgsky's Pictures At An Exhibition, Shostakovich's Waltz From Jazz Suite, Mallorca and Asturias by Albeniz, Balkan Dreams by Sparks, Duarte's technically demanding Americana and Scott Joplin ragtimes The Entertainer (as featured in the hit film The Sting) and Maple Leaf Rag.

The concert begins at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12.50 (£10 concessions).

● Antonio will also be giving a guitar masterclass for young musicians earlier in the day. Contact the ARC on (01279) 442447 for more details.

TV magicians reveal tricks of their trade

EXPECT the unexpected when top TV magic act Barry and Stuart reveal all at The Playhouse next Friday.

Fresh from their regular slot on BBC1's The Magicians, the Scottish duo promise to show audiences exactly how they pull off their jaw-dropping illusions in hit new touring production Show & Tell.

With a first half crammed full of their BAFTA-nominated trademark trickery, the unique two-part show is turned on its head after the interval as the secrets behind the magic are revealed.

The production caused quite a stir at its Edinburgh Festival debut last year, with fellow illusionist Derren Brown declaring the dynamic duo to be "the most consistently original, creative and exciting force in British magic".

With several TV shows under their belts, Barry and Stuart made their live debut with Part Time Warlocks at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 2008 and were an instant smash-hit with critics and audiences alike.

They have returned every year since, garnering countless five-star reviews and playing to totally sold out audiences every night.

Following their hit show Powered By Demons in 2009, they were awarded Best Comedy Illusionists at the World Magic Awards, and were even flown to Los Angeles to perform in a one-off show seen by 12 million viewers on US television.

● Show & Tell comes to The Playhouse next Friday (June 29). The performance starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £15 (£13 concessions) from (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

LOVE STORY:
Jason Segel and Emily Blunt star in
THE FIVE-YEAR ENGAGEMENT

Engaging rom-com on the course of true love

THE FIVE-YEAR ENGAGEMENT certificate 15, 2h04m

LOVE hurts – though not too badly – in Nicholas Stoller's romantic comedy about a doe-eyed couple whose rose-tinted dreams of marital bliss are undone by the pressures of everyday life.

The Five-Year Engagement is written by Stoller and leading man Jason Segel and trades heavily on the winning rapport between Segel and British actress Emily Blunt.

The leads gel delightfully in front of the cameras and kindle sparks of sexual chemistry that have us rooting for the soon-to-be-weds when fate steps in and conspires to tear them apart.

San Francisco sous chef Tom (Segel) meets psychology graduate Violet (Blunt) at a 'Make Your Own Superhero' party. On the first anniversary of that meeting, Tom nervously pops the question with help from his best friend Alex (Chris Pratt).

Tom's parents Pete (David Paymer) and Carol (Mimi Kennedy) and Violet's mother Sylvia (Jacki Weaver) are thrilled and, at the subsequent engagement party, bed-hopping ladies' man Alex has an encounter with Violet's emotionally volatile sister Suzie (Alison Brie) that he will never forget.

Soon after, Violet secures a doctoral position at Michigan University, studying under Professor Winton Childs (Rhys Ifans), and so Tom selflessly sacrifices his career to follow her to the frozen Midwest.

However, the move puts the relationship under intolerable strain and Tom and Violet contemplate breaking off the engagement to pursue their career ambitions in separate states.

Stoller's slick confection woos us with a terrific opening 30 minutes of zinging one-liners and colourful supporting performances. Weaver is a hoot as the heroine's sardonic and cynical mother who has suffered her fair share of heartache and scoffs at the myth peddled by Hollywood of a fairy-tale romance in which Tom Hanks gets the girl.

For all its barbs and grim predictions of impending anguish, the film is engineered with clinical precision to rouse and entertain. But after the promising start, the initial attraction to the script and the characters wanes and we almost fall out of love entirely with the film during a plodding and bloated middle section that noticeably treads water.

Thankfully, our disenchantment is tempered by unerring affection for Segel and Blunt and some lovely set pieces.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: VAMPIRE HUNTER certificate 15, 1h45m

ADAPTED from the novel by Seth Grahame-Smith supposedly based on secret diaries penned by the 16th president of the United States, Abraham Lincoln: Vampire Hunter is an action-packed horror directed by Kazakhstan-born film-maker Timur Bekmambetov.

As a boy, Abraham Lincoln (Benjamin Walker) learns that his grandfather was slain by a vampire and his beloved mother Nancy (Robin McLeavy) died as a result of a fanged fiend.

He swears to kill as many creatures of the night and is mentored by Henry Sturges (Dominic Cooper), who teaches Abraham combat and hunting techniques.

During a trip to New Orleans, Abraham witnesses a slave auction and realises that people are being sold to vampires as food, a heinous practice which propels Abraham on his political course as a fervent abolitionist. He marries Mary Todd (Mary Elizabeth Winstead) and they raise a family, but all the while Abraham continues his vampire-hunting exploits.

As his political career gathers momentum, Abraham must juggle his responsibilities and he relies on his assistant Joshua Speed (Jimmi Simpson) and trusty valet William Johnson (Anthony Mackie) to safeguard his crusade against the forces of darkness ROCK OF AGES Wannabe singer Sherrie Christian (Julianne Hough) leaves Oklahoma for the bright lights of Los Angeles where she meets aspiring rocker Drew Boley (Diego Boneta) who works as a bartender at The Bourbon Room. He persuades owner Dennis Dupree (Alec Baldwin) and right-hand man Lonny Barnett (Russell Brand) to hire Sherrie as a waitress. Bare-chested frontman Stacee Jaxx (Tom Cruise) comes between lovebirds Drew and Sherrie, while Mayor Mike Whitmore (Bryan Cranston) and his puritanical wife Patricia (Catherine Zeta-Jones) pledge to clean up the city by shutting down The Bourbon Room.

RED LIGHTS Dr Margaret Matheson (Sigourney Weaver) has devoted her life to probing paranormal phenomena with her trusty assistant Tom Buckley (Cillian Murphy), but her unerring scepticism pits her against Professor Paul Shackleton (Toby Jones), who believes science cannot explain everything. Out of the blue the investigator's great adversary – blind psychic Simon Silver (Robert De Niro) – comes out of retirement and embarks on a lucrative theatre tour. Tom feels passionately that Margaret should debunk Silver but the closer he strays towards Silver the more powerful the psychic becomes, putting the paranormal investigators on a collision course with disaster.

FAST GIRLS Shania Andrews (Lenora Crichlow) lives on a London council estate and trains for the 200 metres with coach Brian (Phil Davis). When she beats fast-rising Lisa Temple (Lily James) in a qualification race to book her spot at the World Championships, Shania is invited by coach Tommy Southern (Noel Clarke) to join the relay squad. However, Lisa runs the anchor leg and tension intensifies when Shania develops a crush on physiotherapist Carl (Bradley James), who is also the object of Lisa's affections.

PROMETHEUS After astrophysicist Dr Elizabeth Shaw (Noomi Rapace) and her partner Charlie Holloway (Logan Marshall-Green) unearth an ancient cave painting that confirms the existence of an extra-terrestrial race known as the Engineers, wealthy industrialist Peter Weyland (Guy Pearce) agrees to finance a voyage to the alien home planet. A spaceship called Prometheus captained by Janek (Idris Elba) provides the transport for Weyland company executive Meredith Vickers (Charlize Theron) and the crew, but as the explorers touch down on the Engineers' home world they are woefully unprepared for what awaits them.

SNOW WHITE & THE HUNTSMAN Evil queen Ravenna (Charlize Theron) incarcerates her stepdaughter Snow White (Kristen Stewart) in the north tower and plans to attain eternal youth by ripping out her beating heart. When the girl escapes and flees into the Dark Forest, Ravenna hires a huntsman (Chris Hemsworth) to track her down. But he falls under Snow White's spell and agrees to help her overthrow the evil queen.

MEN IN BLACK 3 Boglodite assassin Boris The Animal (Jemaine Clement) escapes from a high security prison and plans to travel back in time to kill the man who put him behind bars – Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones). Having ascertained the past has been altered, Agent J (Will Smith) travels back to 1969 to save his best friend from annihilation.

TOP CAT: THE MOVIE (weekend only) Top Cat (voiced by Jason Harris) and his buddies Benny (Chris Edgerly), Choo Choo (Harris), Fancy Fancy (Matthew Piazzi), Spook (Ben Diskin) and Brain (Harris) enjoy the run of Manhattan's alleys, despite the best efforts of Officer Dibble (Bill Lobley) to thwart their scams.

WIN Pair of tickets to Folk By The Oak

FOLK By The Oak will be celebrating its fifth festival on Sunday, July 22 and will once again be filling Hertfordshire's beautiful Hatfield Park with equally beautiful folk and acoustic music.
The line-up is as follows: Show of Hands, Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain, Cara Dillon, Breabach, Chris Wood, Nancy Kerr & James Fagan, and Emily Barker & The Red Clay Halo.

This year is a milestone year for festival headliners, Show of Hands who celebrate a 20-year career including three sell-out gigs at the Royal Albert Hall and countless awards.

Another favourite on the bill is the Ukulele Orchestra of Great Britain, which wowed audiences at the 2009 BBC Proms with a toe-tapping, all-singing, all-plucking obituary of musical history. It's music you love as you've never heard it before.

There will also be plenty for all the family to enjoy, with the stalls and activities including a craft tent, workshops, children's activities, storytelling, circus skills, real ale bar, music stalls, recycled gifts and delicious food.

Agent Centurion Property Services, Equity House, 4-6 Market Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 417234

THIS end-of-terrace property in Mallows Green, Harlow, previously had four bedrooms but has been converted into a two-bedroom house.

The accommodation is first class, with quality improvements throughout including a luxury fitted kitchen, conservatory, superb bathroom and an entrance porch. However, the property could be converted back to four bedrooms if required.

The entrance porch has a tiled floor, two small storage cupboards and a large walk-in storage cupboard. The tiled flooring continues into the entrance hall with understairs storage area, large storage cupboard and an archway to the kitchen. Leading off the hall is a cloakroom.

The kitchen is a stunning room with an extensive range of wall and base units. There are two carousel corner shelving units and one tall carousel unit, ceramic hob with stainless steel extractor hood, electric oven/microwave, water softener, water filter, waste disposal unit and marble-effect worktops. Integrated appliances include a dishwasher and fridge/freezer. There is also a wine fridge and enclosed vegetable rack/draws.

The lounge/dining room is a light and spacious room, with double glazed patio doors to the conservatory.

Moving upstairs, bedroom one is a generous size as it was originally three rooms. It features two sets of built-in wardrobes with mirror doors and a small step up to a double shower cubicle with glass screen and shower. Next to this is bedroom two which overlooks the front of the house and a luxury bathroom with walk-in whirlpool bath, rotating mirror display unit, black tiled floor and an airing cupboard.

The rear garden backs on to an open park area and is enclosed by fencing. It is mainly laid to patio, with coloured stones, feature flowerbeds and two water features. There is also a timber summerhouse and a garage with storage in the rafters.

The First Steps in Letting

When letting your property, your primary objective is simple you want to find a reliable tenant who pays the rent regularly and looks after your property as you would yourself.

The reality is usually more complex than this. Letting your property comes with legal obligations and social responsibilities, many of which are unknown to anyone who does not make a point of keeping up with this rapidly changing legislative environment.

It is certainly worthwhile getting professional advice at the outset, not just about how to maximize the likely rent you can expect to receive, but also about how you can avoid the various traps along the way.

So during your initial meeting with your chosen letting agent (which we hope will be us of course) you can expect your agent to, for example, provide you with advice on any suggested repairs and improvements that may be needed in order to comply with health and safety regulations. They will also arrange for safety checks on gas and electrical appliances to be carried out, as well as explaining why an inventory and property condition schedule is important.

The agent should also discuss both landlord and tenant's rights and responsibilities and give you advice on what action to take if the property is mortgaged, as well as on any insurance implications. They should also clearly state the way in which tenants are sourced and referenced, and provide details of how deposits and client monies are protected.

A good agent will also arrange to transfer the utilities to the new tenant and then go on to provide regular inspections during the course of the tenancy, and have a system in place that can rapidly be implemented covering physical emergency, non-payment of rent, effective eviction and tenant replacement.

For peace of mind, you owe it to yourself to use a competent and knowledgeable letting agency rather than trying to go it alone. You'll probably see the benefits immediately!

Commercial Property Feature

Enjoy benefits of working away from major centres

In a few weeks the UK will again be the focus of international attention as the Olympic Games get under way. Views on how the Games will affect our economy are mixed and vary from "not at all" to "significantly". It all depends who you speak to.

In general the mood is positive and it is almost universally recognised that events such as the Olympics provide a platform on which the host country can best showcase its talents and attractions.

It is impossible, however, to accurately calculate the economic benefits. The recent diamond jubilee celebrations were viewed by an estimated one billion people worldwide, but the cost to the UK economy – when measured in the tangible terms of bank holiday downtime and lost productivity – seem to make the event more costly than it was worth. Will the Olympic Games be similarly detrimental?

Certainly, for smaller businesses these massive events present big challenges. The cost of running a business do not diminish over holiday periods – there is still rent, salaries, infrastructure and services to pay for.

In a production environment, downtime (however it is constituted) affects supply chains, increases costs and impacts on cashflow. For service-related businesses it means fewer saleable man hours, backlogs and increased pressure on staff.

It is no surprise that most small companies have a jaundiced view of costly public spectacles. Coupled with the pressures of a sluggish (possibly declining) economy, there will be a lot of small business owners in the UK experiencing growing anxiety as the Games make no definite promise of prosperity in their legacy.

Handling this pressure can be made easier when one's working environment is more relaxed, less frenetic and less rigidly constrained.

For many working people, the daily commute is both physically and mentally exhausting. Fighting crowds on the trains, stuck in gridlocked traffic or battling for parking is not ideal for a productive day. Practically everyone acknowledges that London will be a commuter's nightmare during the Olympics.

Personal stress is a significant drain on our economy. Interestingly, an increasing number of smaller business owners are discovering the benefits of locating their businesses away from major centres but close enough to good communications infrastructure to be in reasonable proximity of their customers.

The Maltings Business Centre in Stanstead Abbots is less than a half-hour's journey from central London but enjoys the amazing tranquillity of rural Hertfordshire.

Tenants enjoy all the amenities of a modern business and commercial environment with a lot less stress. Flexible, short-term tenancy agreements, ample free parking and lots of wide open countryside are just some of the many advantages offered.

As the country braces itself for the Olympics and UK businesses continue to evaluate the potential impact of the event, people working for smaller companies located away from the stresses and strains of large metropolitan centres will be thankful for the opportunity to be part of the Games – without actually being part of the event.

Cee'ing is believing

By Iain Dooley

ASK any musician and they'll tell you that it's not the first album that causes all the headaches, it's the second one.

If you've had a surprise success with the first one, everyone is waiting for something better second time around and it's hardly surprising that the pressure causes some artists to falter. Dragging this slightly tenuous metaphor into the car world, history is littered with parallel examples. However, you won't find Kia listed as one of them. For the past decade the Korean firm has built up a solid reputation for delivering steady improvements.

The trend took an unexpected turn for the better with the arrival of its Cee'd family hatch. Developed to rival the likes of the Ford Focus, the Cee'd was proof that the Koreans understood the complex European market.

Sales grew and, predictably, so did the firm's reputation.

Building on the success of the first generation car – something that sold almost 55,000 in the UK alone – this second generation model promises sharper looks, improved quality inside and out plus a greater focus on economy and emissions performance.

The first thing you notice is the car's more mature exterior styling. It's no accident that it now compliments other recently launched cars such as the Picanto and Optima. The same is true on the inside, with the Cee'd borrowing heavily from the larger Optima in terms of switchgear design and control layout.

Space is also important in a family car and the five-door Cee'd offers enough for both front and rear occupants. At the rear the car's boot is a good size, which bodes well for family or company car duties.

It's all very well nailing the basics but the Cee'd also moves the stereotypical Korean car game on with the likes of the more frugal petrol and diesel engines plus an all-new direct shift gearbox – a first for the car maker.

If the original Cee'd was tasked to look and feel the same way as comparable European cars, this second gen model takes it all a step forward with a very Euro-like ride and handling character plus comes with all the toys you'd expect of something developed by the established players.

From the quality ambience of the cabin to the tasteful use of bright coloured trim, it's clear that Kia has stepped up a gear in its bid to secure more buyers. The liberal sprinkling of kit at all levels – from the basics such as air-con to power adjustable mirrors, a split-fold rear seat and an audio unit with USB connectivity – to options such as leather and an easy to use sat-nav unit, panoramic roof and xenon headlights are further proof of Kia's determination to tempt drivers who would have swiftly dismissed the previous generation.

Adding further temptation is the car's engine line-up, which boasts sub 100g/km CO² emitting 1.6-litre diesel alongside a 1.4 diesel and both 1.4 and 1.6-litre petrol units. Engine stop-start has been retained on this Cee'd for 1.6-litre cars, while there's a choice of gearboxes depending on the engine.

Alongside the familiar conventional auto unit is an all-new direct shift gearbox. Newly developed by Kia and Hyundai, the inclusion of this gearbox brings Kia into line with the many other makers who have taken the plunge with this better-than-average efficient approach to changing gear.

The default transmission is a six-speed manual unit, but the DSG offers a smoother and faster shift plus potentially more economical performance. Available for the 1.6 petrol models, it's easy to see this combination's appeal around town when ordinarily you'd be stirring the manual gearlever more times than is healthy for you.

With the Cee'd experience now a much improved one, there's no longer any hint of a compromise in the way the car drives and rides. The supple suspension coupled with the various engines' willing and refined power delivery ensure that you get the a very Euro-like driving and ownership experience.

And in that sense Kia has made another significant leap forward; now the Cee'd can be sensibly and rationally compared to any number of traditional European rivals in a positive light.

The car has all the right kit, good looks and performance to match. Factor in Kia's generous seven year warranty and what's not to like?

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Sam's silver at English Champs

Medal puts sprinter in good heart for Olympic trials

SPRINTER Sam Watts came a brilliant second in the English Athletics U-23 Championships 200m final at Bedford on Sunday.

Harlow-born Sam (20) was in blistering form at the Bedford International Stadium.

He took the silver in 21.33 seconds, finishing just behind Danny Talbot (Birchfield Harriers).

Danny, Sam's main rival, clocked 20.90s.

Dannish Walker-Khan, coached by Linford Christie, was third in the same time as Sam, but had to be content with the bronze in a photo finish.

This result has put the Woodford Green with Essex Ladies Athletic Club athlete in great heart for the Olympic trials at Birmingham this Saturday.

Sam, ever the realist, knows it is too early for him in his career to dream about making the London Olympics in August, but will gain great experience as he runs shoulders with the likes of GB hopefuls Christian Malcolm and Marlon Devonish, both his training partners, at Birmingham.

Sam was in tremendous form at Bedford last weekend. He had earlier won his heat in 21.65s despite complications with his starting blocks, which went flying back at the start of the race.

He came third in his semi-final with a time of 21.18s after three false starts.

The first attempt saw another sprinter's blocks fly back.

Officials restarted the race after most athletes had already completed 50m.

It was disappointing for Sam as he had made

Infantino false started and then this fiasco of a race saw the third attempt marred when the starter's gun would not go off!

Sam's time of 21.18 in the semi-final was just a fraction of a second below his season best (21.11s).

"The conditions weren't fantastic. Some of the times I ran were pretty good," he said.

Former Leventhorpe School student Sam has struggled this season following an ankle injury which ruled him out for six weeks in the winter. This meant he lost out on much of the power work which enabled him to have such an impressive 2010 when he competed in the World Junior Championships in Canada and then narrowly missed out on a place at the European Championships in 2011.

However, he believes the psychological barrier of breaking 21 seconds can soon be made.

"It's just a mental barrier I have to break," he added. "I'm positive minded. This is not my time. I am still young and developing."

Zabi's half century inspires seconds

AN unbeaten 58 from Zabi Hakimi ensured Harlow II (172-6) drew at Leigh-on-Sea II (206-7) in division two of the 2nd XI Shepherd Neame Essex League (SNEL).

Soulat Ali took 5-39 for Harlow III (181; Steve Perry 53) when they drew against Orsett III (142-8) in the SNEL 3rd XI division two.

Harlow IV (171-9) scraped a draw against Shenfield IV (216-9) in the SNEL 4th XI division two.

Meanwhile, Matt Hurley made 47 and Sam Rowell took 5-38 when Harlow Town II (101) lost by two wickets against Old Parkonians II (103-8) in the SNEL 2nd XI division three.

There was also no joy for Harlow Town III (144) when they lost by seven wickets against Westcliff-on-Sea III (145-3) in the SNEL 3rd XI division three.

Harlow Town IV (131-8) were defeated by eight wickets against Buckhurst Hill IV (132-2) in the SNEL 4th XI division two.

Other results:- Herts & Essex Cricket League, div three: Potter Street I (143) lost to Bengoe I (222-7) by 79 runs; div six: Potter Street II (166) bt Epping Foresters II (74) by 92 runs.

Defeat for side

HARLOW Lawn Tennis Club men's team went down 13-3 at home to Thaxted in the Essex Men's Small Club League.

Harlow's pair of Steve Dodd and junior debutant Tom Foxon played well, but lost their match 3-6 2-6 against John Merrit and Calum Smith.

Veteran pairing Paul Pattison and Kieran Willis lost their first match 6-6 5-7 against Merrit and Smith.

The Harlow duo then improved to draw 1-1 in another contest, but the hosts lost two other matches.

This followed a weakened Harlow side drawing 8-8 against Pleshey in their opening league match.

Harlow were missing senior players, but two of the club's leading juniors Alex Dodd (13) and Alex Curaba (12) combined well.

They won two doubles matches by two sets to nil.

Pride as team are champions in debut season

NORTHOLT manager Gerry Gill's pride was evident after he picked up the Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District Football League Division One title trophy.

Northolt won the title in their first year together and Gill received the trophy at the League's annual dinner at Bishop's Stortford FC.

The squad was mainly made up from former youth team players from Bishop's Stortford Swifts and Northolt, including Gill's son Chris. Gill, 53, from Thorley, said: "I used to manage a youth team at Swifts and they were great rivals with Northolt."

"Most of the lads then went to university, but when they came back they wanted to have a team and I got one together." He added: "The team are between 21 and 25 years old and are a great bunch of lads."

"They have a great spirit and play good football."

Birchanger won the League's overall Sugar Perry sportsmanship trophy for the best conduct awarded by referees. They also won the premier division sportsmanship award.

Dunmow Rhodes won the division one sportsmanship award.

Hatfield Heath secretary David Pyle won the Secretary of the Year prize for the second time having won it for the first time in 2005-06.

The event was attended by around 70 people.

League president John Barry thanked chairman Ron Hampton and his wife Irene for their work organising the annual dinner.

Weak Harlow too strong for Town

superbly by George Messenger on the boundary for 3.

Sixteen-year old Matt Hurley, who is mainly a second team player, got Town close to the target making 32 but Harlow's young side held on to win against their local rivals.

REHMAN AHMED

Fifteen-year-old George Kenny (2-22 from 4 overs) and Dennis Perry (2-7 from 2 overs) bowled well for Harlow. Kenny and Perry have played for the second team this year.

Rehman Ahmed said: "George and Dennis did well with the ball and Joe Barnett [a 15-year-old second team player] fielded well for us. I was very pleased to win."

Calver said: "Matt Hurley batted well for us after we kept them to a reasonable score. Their opening bowlers bowled well and put us behind the rate."

Harlow Town have now lost both their 20-over group games.

Harlow have won one out of their two games so far.

There are five teams in the group.

High Fives for thumping win

TOP bowling from Ahmed Khawaja and Andrew McGarry got Harlow back on track as they registered a thumping home win over Fives & Heronians.

Harlow had suffered two heavy defeats in their previous two matches, but there was only side in it after the visitors had won the toss and surprisingly elected to bat on Saturday.

Fives might have rued this decision after suffering a terrible start.

McGarry took two wickets from the game's first two balls to stamp Harlow's authority on the match.

He trapped danger man Terry Ballard lbw first ball and he then followed that up by having Phillip Apps superbly caught by diving wicket-keeper Andre Riddell.

The hat-trick was averted, but Fives were soon 4-3 when McGarry had visitors' skipper Ben Britton caught at slip by Harlow captain Luke Heskett for a duck.

Fives never recovered and only three batsmen reached double figures with former Stortford bowler Jamie Porter top scoring with 27.

Khawaja was the main destroyer, taking 6-27 from 14.1 overs and two of his wickets came from catches by Heskett as the visitors were bowled out for 81.

McGarry finished with 4-32 from 18 overs.

Heskett said: "Ahmed [Khawaja] and Andy

Ahmed finished with 29 not out.

Park strife for team after batting let down

A DISASTROUS batting display saw Harlow Town slide to a heavy home defeat at the hands of Old Parkonians.

The hosts were bowled out for just 54, falling well short of Old Parkonians' score of 166-8 in Saturday's clash.

There was no way back for Town after openers Jason Gladwin (3) and Shiraz Ali (2) fell cheaply.

Town's number three Ramya Upadhyay offered some resistance, making 20 but this was the only double-figure score from a Town batsman and extras (18) was the second top score!

Five home batsmen were dismissed for ducks as Town had no answers to the visitors' bowlers Haris Khan (5-19) and Rizwan Sadiq (4-5).

Earlier, Parkonians batted first and got off a bad start with openers Dave Raj and Jibran Azam falling to Ashley Alderson and Dan Calver for ducks.

Number three Sadiq, who would later prove to be a key figure with the ball, played a crucial role with the bat and scored 51 before he was caught by Charlie Coleman off the bowling of Ronnie Yates.

Other useful knocks came from Numan Khan (22) and Ejaz Khan (32 not out), enabling Parkonians to post a competitive score.

Yates (3-72) and Upadhyay (2-44) did the bulk of the bowling for Town and they were also the chief wicket takers.

Kingsmoor rule to secure first silverware

NEWLY-formed Kingsmoor Youth Under-7 football team won their first trophy when they were triumphant at the Ongar junior annual five-a-side tournament on Sunday.

The popular event attracts more than 70 teams each year with age ranges varying from U-7 to U-14 from around Harlow and the surrounding areas.

Kingsmoor Youth progressed well and played Waltham Abbey in the final following two wins, two draws and only a single defeat.

Unbeaten Waltham Abbey had won three games and were clear favourites to win the final, which proved a close affair.

Kingsmoor snatched a goal on the break.

The second half tested Kingsmoor's defensive abilities as they were pushed hard by Waltham Abbey who searched for an equaliser.

Waltham Abbey spurned several chances, while great defending, dramatic goal-line clearances and last-minute tackles proved enough to upset the odds and seal the silverware.

Kingsmoor are managed by Carl Raymond and Matt Wheat who said: "Considering that the boys have only been training together for six weeks this is a remarkable achievement. The spirit and determination shown from the lads against such a strong, established side was second to none and they should all be very proud of themselves."

Kingsmoor have joined the West Essex & East Herts League as they move up to the U-8 age group for next season.

The team is based at Mark Hall Sportscentre.

Assistant boss quits Hawks

ASSISTANT boss Christian Wheeler has left Harlow Town FC.

The 33 year-old had taken over as first team No.2 when Danny Chapman was appointed manager in January 2011.

Previously he was coach at Harlow under then manager Kevin Warren.

Wheeler had two playing spells at Harlow.

Wheeler, who was mainly a substitute last year and is getting married later this month, cited two main reasons for leaving.

He wants to play more and also felt he could not devote the time to the assistant manager's role because of a change in his job with City Bank in London.

Wheeler, who has also played for Tilbury and Sawbridgeworth

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Town, said: "I really missed playing and feel I can play for another two years. I do not want to regret not doing it.

"I will be looking at clubs in Harlow's league and I have kept myself fit. It would be awkward to just become a player [at Harlow]. I will look at clubs when I come back [from honeymoon]."

Wheeler is certainly eyeing a No.1 job in the not too distant future. "I would like to go into management in the future," he said.

Wheeler is convinced Chapman can make progress as a manager. "I firmly believe that in time Danny will go up the ladder," he added.

Chapman praised Wheeler's input and hopes to have a replacement in place for the club's pre-season programme.

"I understand his reasons. It's a blow. Christian was fantastic in his time at the club and he did a lot of work," said Chapman.

"Christian was respected by all the players and he was a very good go-between between me and the players."

He added: "I want to get someone in for the pre-season, but I will not rush anything. It has to be right."

Chapman has not signed any new players but said all of last year's squad have been invited back to pre-season training.

Looking ahead to next season's Ryman League division one north, the Harlow boss feels that the newly-promoted teams – Norfolk-based Wroxham plus Witham Town – will not be easy opponents.

He said: "I do not know anything about Wroxham, but all teams from the Ridgeons League like Leiston and Newmarket have been good and have decent budgets, so I expect them to be good."

"Witham won the Essex Senior League well and I expect them to be organised and there is also Aveley coming down from the Ryman premier division."

Ware were also relieved from relegation in a non-League shake-up.

● HARLOW Town FC have arranged the following pre-season friendlies: Saturday July 21 – St Margaretsbury (A); Tuesday July 24 – Takeley (A); Saturday July 28 – Hertford Tn (A); Tuesday July 31 – Sawbridgeworth Tn (A); Saturday August 4 – Canvey Island (A); Tuesday August 7 – Bishop's Stortford (H); Saturday August 11 – Concord Rangers (H).

Medal joy for athletes

FOUR Harlow secondary school children gained medals in the Essex Schools Athletics Championships.

Saturday's event at Melbourne Park in Chelmsford was marked by windy conditions which slowed down times, but did not prevent Canaan Solomon (13) winning the junior boys (U-15) 1,500m race. In doing so, the Mark Hall School student clocked a personal best (PB) time of 4 minutes and 27.2 seconds.

In the junior girls 75m hurdles, St Mark's School pupil Naomi Harryman, (14), claimed a silver medal in 12.3s.

Meanwhile, Mark Hall pupil Alicia McArdell (14) put in a strong finish to claim a bronze medal in the U-15 1,500m girls event in 5:09.

Alicia was followed home by Passmores Academy student Amy Edwards (13) who ran well to come 10th in 5:35.

In the inter boys (U-17s) 1,500m race, Burnt Mill pupil Perry Rowan (15) ran superbly well to secure a bronze in 4:16.

Another Burnt Mill pupil, Amelia Barrett (15) came 4th in the inter girls (U-17s) 1,500m race in 4:54.

In the Year 7 boys (U-13) 800m race, Passmores pupil William Jansen (12) was 12th in a PB of 2:36.

Harlow Athletic Club had two youngsters compete in the Hertfordshire Schools Championships at Hemel Hempstead.

Will Snook (16) representing The Bishop's Stortford High School, was 4th in the inter boys 800m (U-17) in 2:04.2.

His school mate Sam Gale (16) was sixth in the inter boys (U-17) 1,500m race in 4:23.

Earlier this month Naomi Harryman was fourth in the 75m hurdles (PB 12.2s) in an Eastern Counties event.

Weak Harlow too strong for Town

Harlow 112-7, Harlow Tn 107

Harlow won by five runs

Dukes Essex T20 Cup, group F

A WEAKENED Harlow side did just enough to beat close rivals and hosts Harlow Town in a Dukes Essex Twenty-20 Cup group game.

Harlow were led by Rehman Ahmed in the absence of skipper Luke Heskett and they were also missing star all-rounder Ahmed Khawaja and Andre Riddell.

Harlow batted first on Sunday and enjoyed a flying start with Andrew McGarry (26) and Luke Monger (21) putting on 50 for the first wicket in six overs.

Town spinners Ronnie Yates and Scott Baker slowed the run rate down, but Rehman Ahmed battled to an excellent 40 and ensured the visitors totalled 112 for 7 on a difficult batting wicket.

Daniel Farmer (2-12) and skipper Dan Calver (2-26) were Town's chief wicket takers.

Harlow's opening bowlers rose to the occasion when the hosts batted.

Sukit Bastola claimed 3-10 in 4 overs, while McGarry took a wicket and went for just seven runs in four overs.

None of Town's top six got into double figures and although Monger's bowling spell was expensive, he did get rid of the dangerous Charlie Coleman who was caught
